

Course requirements for students specializing in literature, culture, and/or film entering with an approved Masters degree

Students specializing in literature, culture, and/or film entering the program with a Masters degree in French Studies will normally be awarded 30 credit hours toward the 80 needed for the Ph.D. They must then complete the following course requirements while here at OSU:

Courses:	Credit hours:
7301 Teaching French at the College Level	3
7601 Introduction to Literary and Cultural Theory	3
At least 1 course in 5 of the 6 following categories:
I1, 2, 3, 4; II; III	15
At least 1 course in category IV (8601)	3
At least 1 additional course in major area	3
	27

* 7601 may be waived if student has already taken an equivalent course, subject to approval by the Graduate Advisor.

In consultation with their advisor, students may count up to 3 credit hours of graduate courses (usually 1 course) offered outside the department toward these 27 hours (if the student's area of specialization requires it, additional extra-departmental courses may be counted toward these hours with the approval of both the student's advisor and the Graduate Chair).

The remaining 23 hours needed to reach 80 will include the following course numbers:

8303 Teaching Apprenticeship	1-3
8998 Exam and Prospectus Preparation and 8999 Dissertation Writing	14-18
8899 Dissertation Workshop	3-6
	minimum 23 + 57 = 80

Students are required to take one 8303 Teaching Apprenticeship at some point during their program (which is worth 1 to 3 credit hours depending on whether taken pre- or post-Candidacy). Students who have passed their candidacy exams and defended their dissertation prospectus must register for 8899 Dissertation Workshop (1 credit) each semester until graduation. Graduate courses taken outside the department above and beyond those permitted to count toward the required 27 hours of coursework described above may also be counted toward these remaining 23 hours.
